About Santiago

Santiago Advisors is a top management consultancy with a focus on strategy and organization. We support the successful development of global market leaders in long-term partnerships and the realization of their growth potential. Through close interaction and powerful collaboration with our clients, we develop fully integrated, innovative and turnkey concepts.

As a partner-led consulting firm, we know that a team is more than the sum of its parts. Diversity is key, which is why we believe in the best idea, regardless of rank or position.

Your tasks

- As part of a consulting team, you solve the strategic and organizational issues of our clients on site, both at home and abroad
- Depending on the task, you contribute to the situation analysis, problem definition and conception & implementation of customized solutions
- You take responsibility for different work packages and develop solutions independently
- You analyze complex problems in a logical way and create structured and appealing presentations
- You participate in the development of new concepts and publications in one of our Competence Centers

Your profile

- You have completed your Master's degree with excellent results and have gained some professional experience
- You have already gained more than 3 years of project experience in a consulting firm or related industries
- You are characterized by analytical and entrepreneurial thinking, curiosity and creativity and are eager to work on sustainable solutions as part of a motivated team
- You are able to communicate professionally in English with international contacts
- You are proficient in MS Excel and PowerPoint
- You are willing to travel for project work
- You have a good command of the German and English language
